

Using the telephone installed in my home is an invasion of my privacy. If a product or service is wanted or needed, that should be my choice. The use of technology for which I pay, should not be used as a marketing device.

Futhermore, I do not purchase or accept any such offers over my phone system.